

EVENTS coming your way! BABS Meeting and Darwin Day 2006

Darwin Day for us is Tuesday, 14 February, 2006

(Yes, Charles's birthday is the 12th.)

→Essig Museum of Entomology, UC Berkeley, Wellman Hall, open house to see displays and posters. 1-5pm. Student led tours on the hour at 2, 3 & 4pm. Open to the public, classes welcome (if more than 20 people please contact Cheryl Barr <cbarr@nature.berkeley.edu>

→A Toast to Darwin with Cake and Drinks in the Essig Museum of Entomology at 530pm (located in Wellman Hall). Toasting is limited to BNHM and BABS community and guests. Please no large classes. RSVP for this event to Stephen Lew <stevelew@nature.berkeley.edu>

→Bay Area Biosystematists Meeting: DRINKS at 600pm and DINNER at 630pm in UC Berkeley, 2063 Valley Life Sciences Bldg. $10 per person for Pizza, salads and various beverages. Please no large classes. RSVP for this event to Helian Ratsirarson <hfratsira@yahoo.fr> include vegetarian or omnivore preference

→Talks and discussion 14 Feb, in 2050 Valley Life Sciences Bldg. 730pm. OPEN TO PUBLIC, CLASSES WELCOME.

The Continuing Darwinian Revolution
Michael Ghiselin, California Academy of Sciences

Intelligent Design: A view from the Trial
Kevin Padian, University of California, Berkeley

From Galapagos to the Genome:
Evolutionary Biology in the 21st Century
Patrick O'Grady, University of California, Berkeley

→Nature Documentary Seminar: All week long, 12-1 pm, 412 Wellman Hall. Bring a lunch. We will be screening the NOVA/WGBH series, "Evolution" (Feb. 13, 15-17), and "Life In The Undergrowth - Intimate Relations" by David Attenborough (Feb 14 only).